

Working on Wellness is a statewide worksite wellness program that provides up to $10,000 in seed funding, online training, and worksite wellness advisors to help organizations build a fun and effective wellness initiative unique to their workplace.

After Working on Wellness, our employees take fewer sick days and are more productive!

Participating in Working on Wellness gave me an opportunity to grow and boost my leadership skills.

With our new wellness program, I am able to exercise more and better manage my diabetes.
