

The Fanny Holt Ames and Edna Louise Holt Fund

In 2019, in addition to the standard grantmaking process, the Fanny Holt Ames and Edna Louise Holt Fund will be accepting proposals for housing as a social determinant of health projects.

Housing and Health in Windham and Windsor County

The Fanny Holt Ames and Edna Louise Holt Fund (the Holt Fund) was created at Edna Louise Holt's instructions, and established in 2000, with Bank of America as the Trustee. Over the last 19 years, the Holt Fund has invested more than $14.5 million in community based programs and initiatives to meet the medical needs of Grafton, Vermont and surrounding communities.

The Holt Fund focuses its resources on meeting the medical needs of individuals including, although not limited to, those with limited access to health resources. In 2019, the Holt Fund is interested in investing between $25,000 to $100,000 per year, in 1-2 projects or initiatives related to housing over the course of up to 3 years.

As a social determinant of health, research completed with support from the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, points to three important and interrelated aspects of housing and their links to health: the physical conditions within homes; conditions in the neighborhoods surrounding homes; and housing affordability, which not only shapes home and neighborhood conditions but also affects the overall ability of families to make healthy choices.

Healthy homes promote good physical and mental health. Good health depends on having homes that are safe and free from physical hazards. In contrast, poor quality and inadequate housing contributes to health problems such as chronic diseases and injuries, and can have harmful effects on childhood development. Poor indoor air quality, lead paint, and other hazards often coexist in homes, placing children and families at great risk for multiple health problems

The lack of affordable housing affects families' ability to meet other essential expenses, placing many under tremendous financial strain. High housing-related costs place a particular economic burden on low-income families, forcing trade-offs between food, heating and other basic needs. One study found that low-income people with difficulty paying rent, mortgage or utility bills were less likely to have a usual source of medical care and more likely to postpone treatment and use the emergency room for treatment. Another study showed that children in areas with higher rates of unaffordable housing tended to have worse health, more behavioral problems and lower school performance.

County Health Rankings notes, 17% of households in Vermont experience severe housing problems such as overcrowding, high housing costs, or lack of kitchen or plumbing facilities. In Windham County, this rate is also 17%, while in Windsor County it is higher at 19%.

Substandard housing is much more of a risk for some individuals or families than others; housing quality varies dramatically by social and economic circumstances. Families with few financial resources are most likely to experience unhealthy housing and typically least able to remedy them, contributing to disparities in health across socioeconomic groups. Unique housing needs exist for homeless veterans, victims of domestic abuse, and runaway and homeless youth. In light of evidence about the many ways housing can affect health, strategies must be multifaceted – focusing on physical quality of housing, health-promoting conditions in neighborhoods, and access to affordable housing for all.
