Announcing the January 2021 Grant Cycle

Overview:

The Robert E. Leet and Clara Guthrie Patterson Trust, established in 1980 for the advancement of medical science, particularly research “relating to human diseases, their causes and relief,” provides support to mentored clinical investigators in the early stages of their research careers across a wide range of disciplines.

Any cancer-related proposals submitted for consideration for the Patterson Trust Award will also be eligible to be considered for the Seery Foundation Clinical Investigator Award.

The William O. Seery Foundation, established in 2010 to “support research for the treatment and cure of cancer of all types,” will consider cancer-related proposals submitted through the Patterson application process for funding for a Seery Award.

Applicants are offered the opportunity to demonstrate creativity and explore opportunities that may promote careers in clinical research. The Program supports innovative research and pilot studies.
